TULIPS

There are no bulbs which make such a rich and gorgeous display of blossoms with so little care and cultivation, as do Tulips. Their early blooming, pretty cup-like flowers, gay colors, and brilliant effects make them spring favorites. They can be cultivated very easily, only requiring good, common garden soil to grow them to perfection. They can be set out any time after September 1st till ground freezes too hard. Plant about 4 inches deep and from 4 to 6 inches apart.

Early Spring Tulips

These Tulips bloom during the month of April, and are very desirable for potting and bedding purposes. They are also excellent for planting in window boxes, as their gay colors are very attractive.

Cottage or Mayflowering Tulips

These late Tulips deserve a wide and general planting in masses or in the herbaceous border, as they are very striking and effective. They bloom at a time when spring flowers are gone and summer plants are still developing. Mayflowering, or Cottage Tulips, make one of the best, brightest and most attractive and satisfactory flowers for the table that can be used. A bed of assorted Tulips used for this purpose will furnish a continuous feast for weeks during the spring.
